

Proposition 13
Establish Rudiments of Organization

- I A desk blotter on the bureau.
- II Extended physiologies derived from data bases conformed to substrata consistent with relationships formalized in  $([\frac{\hat{a}}{\hat{b}}] \rightarrow [\dots] \rightarrow [\frac{\hat{c}}{\hat{d}}])$  can be considered the command structure most likely to meet the revised and refined Proposition 1.
- III An invisible chuckle over “conclude” followed by a peanut butter spread on the table validated both principle and process.
- IV A Polar bear on an ice floe superimposed on the lean sausage substitute I considered in the market: Was allowed as a minor element to attend a large meeting called to explain an unpleasant event: A substantial hook gathered a number of threads: A lugged rubber sole: An ice cream scoop: An inverted paper airplane.