

Proposition 25
Focus Organizational Segments

- I A black slim line phone on the desk:

- II It is not inconceivable that a very tightly focused exercise has the potential to dramatically shift the core theological premises at the geographical centers of the Middle East conflicts. The template to be validated will attempt to dissociate the geographic from the ideological. The exercise proposed is intended to be proof of principle that this geography can be replaced by principles of a command structure outlined in Proposition 13. Technique requires state of the art communications. Should this meet with any success, derivative programs should follow.

- III A very faint Bon Ami roulette wheel acknowledged potential.

- IV A spark moved a short distance, left to right: Some people went for a collective drive in vintage Corvettes. There was one too few cars for what was thought to be a group: An ace of spades: A medieval warrior in full armor. A whale breaking through an ice pack and a blue jay, in accurate color. Two forearms with no hands engaging their hooks.
