

Proposition 30
Replace Artificial Stakes

- I Several volcano craters on the desk:

- II The Triad will give a priority to stratifying competition for resources so that the ends of one level do not become the means of another. Current focus on energy and water will not skew the balance advocated by Wheeler et al. in characterizing resources required for a successful SLEN.

- III A cluster of cumulus clouds, each containing an ice cream sandwich, validating the priority.

- IV A pyramid: A glacier and a Kayak: A cluster of triangular prisms with their visible light spectrum in a tulip glass.
